Not as many new books have been added this year as usual as about $15 of the money had to be used in the replacing of books that were badly worn and not fit for circulation.

Through the kindness of Miss Sarah Perkins of Boston the books between numbers 2289 and 2298 were presented to the library and through the kindness of Stephen F. Beals of Hopkinton, N. H., the books between the numbers 2298 and 2315 were presented to the library. Books have also been presented by Dr. Whitney and others.

More interest has been taken in the Knowlton library than for a number of years, and through the kindness of Mary A. Knowlton and others 48 books have been added with good prospects for more in the near future. In all there have been added during the past year, including the Knowlton library, 176 books. During the last few years many valuable books of history, travel and fiction have been added to our library and the trustees would be greatly aided in their work if people would suggest to them books that would be desirable for the library.
